October 2, 2015

I'm building a pool. In October. I figure the ground won't freeze until December, so I'm safe.

When you can stand outside to watch the lunar eclipse on Sept. 27 without a coat until 10 p.m., clearly Cheyenne now has pool weather climate. And I've got plenty of space to build a pool, so that's not an issue. And at the rate things are going, I won't even have to heat the pool.

Of course, just a couple of months ago I was complaining that it was too cold to sit out on the deck & watch for the International Space Station to pass by. So I may have to rethink the whole thing.

I talked it over with Cassidy and Becca. Cassidy was fairly closed mouthed about it all, as she should be. The last time I gave her a pool, she dragged it across the yard-meaning, she sunk her teeth into the side of the plastic pool, which allowed all the water to drain out so she could drag it around the back yard like a toy. That was the same day she ate through Ken Follett's "Fall of Giants." I had a hard time explaining to the Quality Paperback Book Club that it wasn't my fault the postman put the cardboard, bound up, encased-in-plastic package within teeth range of Cassidy, and, no, I can't send you the book back to show the damage, because the pages are shredded and flying all over the yard & many of them are in Nebraska by now.

Becca was worried that if I put the pool in her front yard, she would drown. She pointed out that she has never been taught to swim. I told her dogs swim naturally-it just happens. But Becca wasn't convinced. Although she did think it might be interesting to toss Lydia, the cat, into the pool to see what would happen. So to keep peace in the family, and Lydia alive, I think I should put the whole "build a pool" thing on hold.

In other news: There is salt water on Mars. No, this isn't the plot for the recent movie, The Martian. Scientists have figured out that certain colored bands on Mars expand & contract, & so the theory is that water is involved. Next theory: Life on Mars could exist. Martians! Ain't it great!

And finally, under the category of Martians, the guy that created the anti-virus, which also carries his name, John McAfee, is running for president in 2016. This is welcome news indeed. He's exactly what this country is looking for: Last month he was arrested on charges of driving under the influence of Xanax and possessing a gun at the same time. He actually blamed his doctor-"Doc didn't tell me I shouldn't drive or carry a loaded weapon while taking Xanax." I made up that quote, but that was essentially his argument. Xanax treats anxiety and panic disorders, btw. Wonderful. And this is a guy we want to be in charge of pushing that red button.

Some of his prior activities include being held in Guatemala, after fleeing Belize when authorities wanted to question him in connection with the death of his neighbor. He was even described by Belize's prime minister as "extremely paranoid, even bonkers." Thankfully, he was soon deported to the US, because, you know, we need more people like him in the States.

On the plus side, this man has intimate knowledge of immigration, deportation, hand guns, illegal substances, and, to top it off, because he often wore disguises to evade capture, he knows hair pieces. I figure that at the very least, he can give Donald Trump some tips about his hair. So all is not lost.

HAND APPLIQUE CLUB

This is a get-together & stitch class. Many of us are trying hand applique these days-- patterns are calling for a lot more applique. The club is designed for quilters who already do some hand applique, but beginners are welcome as well. We will share techniques, suggest patterns, talk about threads and, in general, just stitch. A little quiet time away from the distractions of home is what we need to get our projects done.

HAND EMBROIDERY CLUB

If you want to learn to hand embroider or just brush up your technique, join us on the second Saturday of the month from 10 to noon. We provide free vintage patterns, and this year we will have free patterns of girls with hats, that you can embroider, embellish and color. Each month Kathy Sconce shows us a new stitch to try, plus, she guides us through thread choices, how to knot, fabrics to use, and tracing techniques.

*****

Knit Pickin' Club

This is another get-together class to sit & knit, work on our projects, share information and get some help. We will share techniques, suggest patterns, but mainly we'll sit & knit (or pick).

Toad Toters

On full moon days (as noted in the calendar) you will get 20% off all purchases (not otherwise discounted) that you can fit in your bag. You must bring your bag to participate. Full Moon Days: September 27; October 27; November 25; December 25 (I'll figure something out. I'm not coming in on Christmas).

Discount Policy

We will honor only one discount -- whichever is largest. You can't combine a 10% with a 25% discount to get a 35% discount. On this we can't be bribed.

Color of the Month

September orange/yellow; October green; November flannels; December red.
